

MIT CONNECT: SUPPORT STUDENTS IN 3 EASY STEPS

1

Recognize

Recognize that a student is in distress or you're worried about them (facultyguide.mit.edu).

2

Consult

Consult with S3 at s3help@mit.edu (UG) or GradSupport at gradsupport@mit.edu (G). Share any concerns you have in as much detail as possible.

3

Refer

Refer the student to any support resource on doingwell.mit.edu/support. Don't hesitate to follow up with our support offices, and know that we'll stay in touch with you.

Scan the QR code for support resources

KNOW HOW TO CONNECT IF YOU HAVE AN URGENT CONCERN:

I'm concerned about someone's immediate safety.

There is physical or verbal aggression, the situation feels dangerous, or someone is in immediate physical danger.

Call MIT Police (617-253-1212).
They are available 24/7/365.

I'm worried about a student and it's Monday to Friday between 9am and 5pm.

Contact the CARE Team

(617-324-2273 or careteam@mit.edu)

or

Student Mental Health and
Counseling (617-253-4481).

I'm worried about a student and it's after-hours, on the weekend, or when MIT is closed.

Contact the Dean on Call (DOC)
by calling MIT Police (617-253-1212)

or

Student Mental Health and
Counseling (617-253-4481).

Visit doingwell.mit.edu/facultyandstaff for a comprehensive library of information.